My dear little children, praised be Jesus!

Pray, my little ones, pray with all your hearts for the souls in purgatory; because, my little ones, they pray for you. They are awaiting your prayers for them. Pray with all your hearts because they are amongst you. You can deliver them through the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. They will unite with you for the greater glory of God so that they can see God face to face, just as you too desire to see Him one day face to face.

Make no mistake about it. There are many people of different religions and different faiths whom God loves and cherishes. This is the One Faith, built upon the sacrificial offering of the Mass, through which souls are released into His Kingdom of Heaven where they abide in tremendous glory at different levels. Whether you believe what my Son's Church teaches you, or whether you believe what other peoples and faiths believe, I can tell you that there is a place; and this is a place where people must be purged so that they can see God face to face. Regardless of what they believe, you can pray for all of them; and they are released when you pray for them. Make it a daily offering, as you do for your own protection against evil spirits in the Prayer to St. Michael the Archangel.

My loved ones, I your Mother of Mercy come before you and implore your assistance. I plead with you to pray for those in tremendous need. I can also tell you that as you most lovingly give of yourselves to others with charity, and as you love others even when you find them difficult to love, God will grace you; and He will forgive you as you continue to love and forgive others.

I am a joyful Mother and a Mother who gives Mercy because you, my loved ones, desire the Ultimate Bliss of eternity, and that is my Son Jesus Christ, your Savior. Come, my little ones, come into my Immaculate Heart. Come into the Sacred Heart of my Son. Come and dwell in the Truth; and the blessing of Almighty God in the union of the Holy Trinity will be yours.

Peace to you. Thank you, my loved ones, for responding and changing.

Come.
